include IBM, Lockheed Martin and BP.

"This book provides counter-intuitive principles for success in getting your point across, expanding your influence and persuading others to change their mind or behavior," said Booher.

With examples from politics, pop culture, business, and family life, the book also identifies common reasons that communicators fail at changing hearts and minds—and offers concrete tips to become more persuasive.

Executives will learn:

- How to build or rebuild trust.
- Why storytelling skills are essential for today's professionals.
- Why salespeople should stop "pitching."
- How to make things simple so customers and employees will engage.
- Why empathy can be bad for your business and career.

Jam-packed with practical examples and techniques, the book will show how to analyze your own communication for the pitfalls. Readers will learn how to shape conversations, presentations, offers, emails, feedback or customer service to succeed in accomplishing the communication goal-whether to get others to accept change, put aside a bad habit, improve performance, buy your product, or give you the job.

"This is the definitive book on the hows and whys of communicating effectively. I've always said leadership is an influence process—and to influence others, you have to know how to get your point across clearly," said Ken Blanchard, coauthor of "The One Minute Manager ."

"To be a success you need to influence others, communicate persuasively and win the hearts and minds of those around you. Dianna Booher can give you the expert advice you need to succeed," said Darren Hardy, publisher and editor of SUCCESS Magazine.

"By following the tactics revealed in 'What MORE Can I Say?' you will communicate in a way that creates a dynamic engagement with others after which all parties walk away satisfied and smiling," said Marshall Goldsmith, author or editor of 34 books including the global bestseller "What Got You Here Won't Get You There."
